While Adams, Rawles and Saunders provide the most valid set of criteria, and while I do not wish to dispute their scholarly authority, emblem books on-line bring other considerations, as do modern standards of education. Matters of fact are open to observation and experience, and so all of the tests noted above for determining rational assent to propositions about them are available to us. In Casaubon's eyes, this conviction, which he shared with Joseph Scaliger, formed one of the principal differences between the critical scholarship of the Protestants and the unhistorical methods of Catholic scholars like Baronio.
